Chattahoochee Main Street Receives National Accreditation CMS certified as a 2014 National Main Street Program

CHATTAHOOCHEE, June 28, 2014 – The National Main Street Center, a subsidiary of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, and Florida Main Street have certified that Chattahoochee Main Street is accredited as a 2014 National Main Street Program for meeting the ten standards of performance for a Main Street organization in 2013. The National Trust for Historic Preservation, based in Washington, D.C., is a privately funded non-profit organization that works to save America's historic places. To receive this certification, Chattahoochee's Main Street program has demonstrated that it meets the following criteria:

- Has broad-based community support for the commercial district revitalization process, with strong support from both the public and private sectors.
- Has developed vision and mission statements relevant to community conditions and to the local Main Street program's organizational stage.
- Has a comprehensive Main Street work plan.
- Possesses an ethic rooted in historic preservation.
- Has an active board of directors and committees.
- Has an adequate operating budget.
- Has a paid professional program manager.
- Conducts a program of ongoing training for staff and volunteers.
- Reports key statistics.
- Is a current member of the National Trust Main Street Network.

While we are very proud of this distinguished honor, we want to recognize and emphasize that the success of the Chattahoochee Main Street program is due entirely to its strong support from our wonderful volunteers, the citizens of Chattahoochee, our community businesses, and our city government. For more information on how you can become a member of Chattahoochee Main Street and get involved, please contact Ben Chandler, Executive Director, at 663-2323 or email ben.chattahoocheemainstreet@gmail.com.
